Literary & Historical Figure Day
Friday, November 9

Benjamin Franklin! Abigail Adams! Lancelot! Aristotle! Athena!

These are just some of the wonderful figures our scholars are learning about through their classical education at Archway Trivium East!

We would like to invite your scholar to choose any literary or historical figure from our archway curriculum, and come to school on Friday, November 9, dressed as that figure! *

Scholars, please choose your favorite character from history or literature, and show us how much you love learning at Archway Trivium East!

*All costumes must abide by specific dress code guidelines set forth in the handbook, and must exclude any frightening or aggressive costumes or accessories.
